With CommandIQ providing centralized control, ProtectIQ offering always-on cybersecurity, ExperienceIQ enabling safer digital habits, and HomeOfficeIQ ensuring reliable connectivity, you can enjoy the confidence and convenience of staying connected in today's digital world.

Together, these solutions create a smarter, safer, and more resilient home network for every household.

CommandIQ is a mobile app that gives users a single place to manage and monitor their home network. Through the app, users can view connected devices, manage Wi-Fi settings, receive alerts, run self-service troubleshooting, and access additional CVCTX SmartHome services. It provides insight, control, and a tailored user experience through personalization.

ProtectIQ is a network-level cybersecurity solution that continuously monitors home networks for threats. It helps protect connected devices from malware, ransomware, malicious websites, and unauthorized access attempts. Threats are automatically blocked, and users receive notifications and security insights through the CommandIQ app, providing an added layer of protection for the entire household.

ExperienceIQ offers parental controls and digital wellness solutions. It allows parents to manage screen time, create user profiles, filter content, pause internet access, and set online rules for family members and devices. ExperienceIQ helps households create safer, more balanced online experiences while giving parents greater control over internet usage.

HomeOfficeIQ is a connectivity assurance solution designed for households that depend on reliable internet access. It provides cellular failover capabilities that automatically maintain connectivity during service interruptions by using a cellular device or hotspot. Subscribers can prioritize critical devices and applications while continuing to benefit from ProtectIQ security and ExperienceIQ controls, helping ensure productivity and peace of mind during outages.
